District Director's Report

District Director's Message for September 2020

With a nod to the title of John Steinbeck's last novel, The Winter of Our Discontent, ARS Past President Marilyn Wellan recently referred to this year's unusual spring months as the "spring of our discontent" and boy was it ever! I was sure that by now things would be much better but the misery and uncertainty continue as the Corona virus rages on.

Because of this, the DSD Conference host committee at Gainesville Rose Society approached me about cancelling the October 16-18 th event and I regretfully agreed. Please see the article in this issue by Ralph and Jean Stream explaining what went into making this tough decision. Although many in-person meetings have been cancelled, I'm glad to see our societies are getting creative by holding online or outdoor meetings. Please do everything you can to stay in touch with your members and give them the rose growing information that they need while following safe practices.

"Roses in Review" (RIR) is underway for this year and needs input from all of us on the roses we grow to make the ARS Handbook for Selecting Roses the invaluable resource that it has been for many years. Please go to www.rose.org to do your online reviews before September 26th . Instructions and paper forms were also in the July/August American Rose magazine and you can send the forms to our RIR Chair, Jill Haisten. While we are all in quarantine, we have more time to observe and rate our roses so please participate. You do NOT have to be an ARS member to do this. As always, I remind all CRs and MRs that it is your duty to do this even if you just go online, register, and state that you have no roses to review this year.

The Great Garden Restoration at ARS headquarters is progressing well. The first of the five circles that will comprise the core garden area has been completed and fund raising is being done for the second circle. A new watering system is in place, the McFarland Plaza has been built and planted, the Windsounds Carillon area has been refurbished and planted with roses entered into the new international trials. There is a new “Never Forget” garden to honor our fallen military and David and I have contributed a bench and plaque for that area. As you know, DSD secured the naming rights to our DSD garden last year and it has been spruced up and planted with many new Bill Radler roses. Our garden is pictured in the July/August issue of American Rose magazine where Marilyn Wellan updates us on everything going on. Even though our DSD garden is paid for, many more donations are needed to keep the project going. Specific giving opportunities are listed in the previously mentioned article. Remind your local societies of this and if you’d like to talk with Marilyn about this let me know and I’ll give you her contact information.

In the last DSD Bulletin, Paul Colombo wrote about the upcoming DSD Photo Contest where he included the latest rules and classes to enter. Cell phone photos are welcome. You don’t need a fancy camera to win. The deadline for digital entries to be sent to him is November 1st and winners will be announced at the next Mid-Winter Meeting. Entries in this contest have been low the last few years and the Board has talked about possibly cancelling this event if we don’t get better participation this year. Please get the word out to everyone.

The cancellation of our Conference and Rose Show means the next time we get to see each other will be at the Mid-Winter Meeting (MWM). Normally, the MWM is held in January but the Board is working with Thomasville RS to move it to March. Hopefully, a vaccine will be available prior to this which would allow us to meet safely. Thomasville RS plans to hold the event in Tallahassee and not Gainesville this time. Our usual fall conference awards will be presented then. Webmaster Chris Van Cleave will have the latest information on our website, deepsouthdistrict.org so stay tuned.

Have a great autumn, enjoy those big and beautiful rose blooms, and please stay safe.

DSD 2020 Fall Show and Convention

By Ralph Stream, Master Rosarian
352-591-4474 streamj@gmail.com

Hello Everyone,

It has been a very tough spring and summer for all of us with this Covid 19 creating so many restrictions.

The Gainesville Rose Society has worked very hard getting preparations made for the 2020 Fall DSD Convention and Rose Show. It is now apparent to all, that this virus has no intention of disappearing anytime soon.

With new infections increasing every day, especially here in Florida, we can no longer be optimistic that GRS can have a successful convention. Even if there was a good registration number, the hotel could not accommodate social distancing for a large attendance. With our cancellation date to the hotel coming fast, GRS cannot wait any longer before we are in the penalty stage, costing us a percentage of the contract. As we all can plainly see, cancellation is evident. We are moving forward with the cancellation and providing notification to everyone. Thanks to all those who helped with the planning and the many others who were going to come to participate and support the DSD in so many ways. Hopefully we will be able to participate in 2021 events once health restraints are under control.

Disappointing for sure, to see a whole year go by without any of our regular fun shows, meetings and conventions. Let's all pray for better days. Please spread the word of our cancellation at this time.

Thanks to everyone. Please keep safe, stay healthy and enjoy your roses.

As you all are aware the entire rose show and convention dates thus far have been canceled. Hopefully we will be able to resume in 2021.

Thomasville and Tallahassee Rose Societies are hosting the Mid-Winter, but because of the virus we are shooting for the middle of March. We will update everyone as we go along. I don't know about you, but I have missed the rose shows and getting together with everyone.

I for one am grateful for face book as every day I get to see new roses and gardens from all over the world. Phil Loungway, Paul Zimmerman, Stephen Hoy and Jacksonville Roses Society, just to name a few send photo's daily of the roses blooming in their gardens and new roses that will be introduced. If you haven't joined in please do it is so nice seeing what others are growing and what their favorites are.

I don't know about you but I have had my share of creatures this year. I have wonderful stink bugs, Georgia Thumpers (grasshoppers) and caterpillars. I didn't invite them but they came anyway. I am out every day trying to get rid of these uninvited guests. Joy, Joy!!!!

Here in South Georgia we have had frequent rain which is a blessing, but I still check the rain gage to make sure we have had enough so that I don't over water. We all still need to fertilize on a regular basis, keep control of weeds, mulch, and spray. In other words, be good stewards of our gardens. Hopefully, with the fall not too far away it will cool things down and are roses will have large blooms once again.

Stay safe follow the CDC guidelines and have a wonderful rest of the year.

Here we are, still waiting for 2020 to end. I pray you all are staying well. It is difficult to face the upcoming holidays after the last five months. Every evening's news is depressing. I am glad I still have flowers to enjoy, even though hurricane season is upon us. Our American Rose magazine will become more important as our gardens approach winter. Truly, the beauty of the rose, if only in pictures, is a necessity for our mental health.

Here is some good news: Word has come from ARS President, Bob Martin, that all judges and CR's automatically have an extra year added to their certification. So, for instance, if your certification was to end in 2021, it is now 2022! There were few, if any, opportunities for judging schools, rose shows, etc. to be held this year. It was only fair to extend the certifications. Apprentices also have extensions to complete their requirements. We only hope now that 2021 will be a better year for everyone.

The last word I received about the Deep South District Mid-Winter Meeting was that it will be postponed until at least March, 2021. There has been news about a vaccine. However, best estimates for it being ready for widespread distribution seem to suggest late winter to spring. Some suggest as late as summer, 2021. So, this is going to be a time for prayer. That and plenty of opportunity to replace tired bushes, redouble efforts to get our roses in top condition, and read, study, and practice styles of floral design. Be careful, wear a mask, and be kind to yourselves and others.

Consulting Rosarian Report

By Linda Schuppener, Master Rosarian
678-895-3945, linda2742@comcast.net

I am hoping this article finds you well and safe. There is no safer place to be than walking through the rose garden enjoying God's magnificent creation. The roses tell us everything is going to be okay, and we need to believe it in our soul. Our law office was considered essential, so we were blessed (or maybe cursed) to have been able to continue working daily. With extreme caution and protection (our 50-story building being empty of people was helpful), no one in our small office has had any health issues. Praying that continues.

The roses in our area appear to have benefitted from the winter rains, and the cool, but not growth-damaging, spring weather. Many folks are mentioning they have lots of basal growth this spring. That is encouraging news! I hope your roses have been beautiful and thrived at the attention you may have been able to give them during this shelter-in-place event. With the cancellation of rose shows, conventions and seminars, there is no doubt we are eager to return to our normal rose event routine. At the proper time, we will rejoice when we can see each other and share the love we have for roses.

Until we meet again, the American Rose Society has been innovative in creating ways for us to stay current in our CR schooling and responsibilities. Online consulting rosarian classes have come to the high-tech forefront. The benefit of being educated and not leaving your home has some clear advantages. This is truly 21st century technology that can allow us to communicate and share the love of roses, and still accomplish CR goals, i.e., auditing and testing. The hope is that face to face schools, conventions and seminars will resume at some date in the future, however, this is a very positive step! Most of us have learned more than we could ever have imagined about online meeting possibilities during this pandemic.

Another feature that is on the forefront is procuring online speakers for your local society meetings. This opens up a new and interesting speaker format. Under the “Resources” tab on the American Rose Society website, you can read and understand this concept more clearly.

Many of you are eligible to become Master Rosarians - earned by ten years of consecutive service as a Consulting Rosarian and ARS member. If you are interested and think you may qualify for this MR distinction, the updated 2020 nomination form is accessible on the ARS website at the “Resources” tab. The link is: Resources. The deadline for nominating is quickly approaching. Please be in thought about becoming a Master Rosarian. It is an honor, and if you or any member of your society meets the qualifications for Master Rosarian (which are listed on page 2-6 of the CR Manual), please submit the nomination form to me by e-mail at linda2742@comcast.net by the July 1 deadline. I must receive the forms by July 1 in order to make sure I can get the forms to the National Committee by August 1.

It's never too late to submit your 2019 CR report. If you haven't done so, I am happy to accept your form.

Enjoy your summer! Stay well and practice safe distancing, except with your

Linda Schuppener

I hope everyone has enjoyed the spring showers and some of the first blooms that come from plenty of water and good garden practices. While we could not have any rose shows this spring, we still have all summer long to photograph them. With a photo we can have that queen on exhibit for longer than a few hours. I really hope to get more entries for the photo contest, to help me not miss any photos, I want to have everyone put "DSD 2020 Photo Contest" in the subject line. I get a lot of email every day, and I don't wish to miss anyone's entries this year.

We all have seen programs on photography, and I hope many more people enter. We all have those Monday Queens, and many of us have a phone with a camera that is more than adequate to take an outstanding photo. If you have any public domain photo editors, or are savvy in Photoshop, or one of the many photo editing suites you can "groom" your photo to perfection there, but really all many needs is a crop and a bit of exposure adjusting. There are many camera apps that turn your phone into a very flexible camera, they are a few dollars and well worth the expense.

If you're in need of some online instruction, there are plenty of "You Tube" videos that are a wealth of information, you can take many of the hints and helps and apply them to our rose photo contest easy enough.

Just remember to watch harsh shadows, and distracting back grounds, feel free to groom the rose on the bush, or off the bush in a studio setting.

If you have any questions feel free to email, text, or call me, I try to make myself available.

Remember to rename them and make sure they are a JPG. Last year I had many entries that were not sent correctly, please try to do this, I know there are a lot of different phones out there, and each is a little bit different on how they deal with images, but again, the internet is a wealth of information, please learn to rename your photos, it will help a lot. Feel free to test something out with me. You also don't need to wait until the last week in October to send them, they can be sent anytime between now and the deadline. I sort them as I get them.

Roses on Facebook

Since we all stuck at home for the most part, it's a perfect time to interact online. Roses and Social Media go together very well. There are many groups on Facebook where you can interact with other rose growers from all over the world. Most rose societies have a Facebook Page and of course the ARS and Deep South District have one. I encourage you to join your society's page and the other two. You will get a lot of info on meetings and news.

In addition, there are many sites dedicated to rose growing, rose breeders, rose diseases, etc. You can ask questions and will get a lot of advice from all over. You should mention your location in your post so you will be sure to get advice that will suit your area. Of course, caveat emptor applies. Some of the advice may not be the best, so wait and see if you get better advice.

Paul Zimmerman Roses

David Austin Rose Lovers

Rose Gardening World

Rose N Roses

Rose Photography Official

There will mostly likely be a Facebook Page or group for your Society. Ask your fellow members. If you want to start one, it's very simple. You can share information about meetings and shows and other events.

In addition, many Rose Vendors have their own Facebook Pages and you can learn about sales and rose availability from them.

K & M Roses

Rose Petals Nursery

Roses Unlimited

Cool Roses

Chamblees Roses

Many of your local nurseries will also have Facebook Pages where you can get information on hours and specials. It is worth checking out.

Great Garden Restoration

James S. Hering, M.D.
President Emeritus

The Covid-19 pandemic has prevented ARS members from visiting America's Rose Garden for much of 2020, but Marilyn, GGR Project Coordinator, has kept us up-to-date with the project progress with her excellent articles in each issue of American Rose. The pandemic has been depressing because of limited interaction with fellow rosarians as well as other activities, but the up-side is that many of us have had decreased expenses (eg. conventions cancelled, season football tickets refunded) as a result. In our household this offers an opportunity for Anne and me to make another tax-deductible GGR donation. Hopefully, other ARS members will find this idea appealing.

Marilyn has included a list of GGR Donor Opportunities in America's Rose Garden Journal, and I have attached it to this email. Once Circle #2 is completed, commitments are pending for the funding of Circles#3 and #4.

Let's Continue the Progress on the Great Garden Restoration Project. . . here's how you can help.

$100— 4" x 8" Engraved Brick

$200— 8" x 8" Engraved Brick (larger message).

$500— Hug a Tree. Gift will be recognized on tree label and on Donor Wall.

$500— 30" Ceramic Planter for container-grown rose. Gift will be recognized on plant label and on Donor Wall.

$1,000— Approximate cost, depending on size, of teak garden bench. Gift will be recognized on engraved marker and on Donor Wall.

$1,500— Engraved 18" x 18" Ceramic Tile in Klima Rose Hall/Whitaker Hall. Gift will be recognized on the tile and on Donor Wall.

$3,000— Rose Arbor in SECOND CIRCLE. Gift will be recognized on garden label and on Donor Wall.

$10,000+ Significant contribution to SECOND CIRCLE -Recognition on Donor Pedestal and on Donor Wall,

We are just $60,000 short of being able to begin construction on the SECOND CIRCLE.

Donations of every size are welcome and will be most appreciated. Pledges and gifts of stock and real estate property are welcome as well. We will probably accept your car when you wish to depart with it.

We will be happy to entertain any proposal for naming rights to gardens, parts of gardens, planting beds, groves of trees, walks, garden décor and works of art, so you can be creative with your gifting.

For example, the Peace Family of Roses Garden could have a donor's name in the front of the garden's title. The same is true for the Members' Choice Garden, the Miniature-Mini-flora Garden, the Wedding Ring Garden near the Hardtner Chapel, and others.

We will be happy to talk with you about options for giving to the Great Garden Restoration Project. We have come a long way, and we have just a short way to go to complete the SECOND CIRCLE. Please email Dr. Jim Hering rosehering@roadrunner.com;

Jon Corkern executive_director@rose.org; or Marilyn Wellan at roseusa@suddenlink.net to discuss your ideas for the Restoration Project.

Thank you.
